PROFESSIONAL CLEANING OF AIR CONDITIONING UNITS AT THE PHILIPPINE EMBASSY

Terms of Reference

The Embassy of the Republic of the Philippines will engage the services of a qualified service provider for the general cleaning and preventive maintenance of all specified air conditioning units to ensure their efficient and reliable operation.

I. Scope of Work

The Service Provider must perform a comprehensive cleaning and maintenance service for all specified air conditioning units (ACUs), which generally includes the following tasks:

1. Inspection & Testing

Conduct an initial inspection, perform diagnostic tests, and measure operating temperatures, pressures, and electrical parameters.

2. General Cleaning

- Clean and pressure wash evaporator coils, condenser coils, blower wheels, propeller blades, and drain pans
- Flush and clean condensate drain lines to remove mold and algae, potentially using treatment tablets to inhibit future growth.
- Clear or replace air filters
- Clean the interior and exterior cabinet assembly of the units

3. Electrical & Mechanical Checks

- Inspect and tighten all electrical connections and terminals
- Check and lubricate motor parts, bearings, and other rotating components as needed
- Test safety controls and check for abnormal conditions or defective components

4. System Optimization

- Check and adjust refrigerant levels, recharging if necessary (refrigerant costs for top-ups should be separate from the service contract).
- Calibrate thermostats and confirm proper compressor function.

5. Reporting & Follow-up

Submit a detailed service report for each unit upon completion of work, noting all tests carried out, adjustments made, any issues found, and recommendations for significant repairs.

6. Site Upkeep

Ensure all waste materials, rubbish, and debris are removed from the premises immediately after the work is completed.

II. List of ACUs Due for Cleaning and Maintenance

The list of ACUs due for cleaning and maintenance is as follows:

No.	ACU Type	Location
1	Ceiling-mounted	Client waiting area (near the cashier), Room 102
